

Ray Horner Chief Operating Officer

Ray has been growing and managing TransPak's global network of manufacturing plants since he joined the team in 2007. Under Ray's leadership, TransPak has maintained high, consistent quality and service even as the TransPak footprint grows both domestically and globally.

Ray's expertise at responding to customer needs leverages more than 20 years experience in the crating and packing industry, with the last 15 being at the Executive Level in the Los Angeles market with diverse customers like Boeing, Disney, Bechtel and GE among others. Ray holds BS in Business Administration and several certificates including one from SMTP (School of Military Packaging Technology) in Aberdeen, Maryland.

