(February 9, 2009) – TransPak, the worldwide market leader in crating, packaging and logistics specializing in delivering quality, state-of-the-art, door to door solutions to its manufacturing partners, today announced that it has opened its fourth international satellite office in Singapore.

“By opening in Singapore, TransPak establishes a presence in this important Southeast Asian Financial and Manufacturing Hub and delivers the support the top blue chip companies require from a first tier supplier,” said Bert Inch of TransPak. “Electronics account for 60% of Singapore’s exports with a focus on manufacturing consumer electronics and information technology products. We want to be right where our customers are so that we can meet customer needs globally.”

TransPak’s Singapore office provides custom and standard crates, corrugated boxes, foam sets, labels and other packaging materials to ensure damage-free transportation. Bob Lally, TransPak President, explains, “Our customers are here to take advantage of Singapore’s prime location. With Japan and China to the north, India to the west, and Australia to the southeast, Singapore links critical trade centers and we support customers operations with the same level of service and quality all over the world. TransPak state-of-the art facilities in Singapore even include a heat treatment chamber so that we can heat-treat right on-site.”
